If you enjoy the sounds of legends like Jim Reeves, Nat King Cole, Perry Como and others of a generation gone by, then you're going to love Allen Edwards. Allen takes the songs from an era when music was really music and creates magic with brilliant arrangements and fabulous vocal stylings. This, combined with Allen's dynamic stage presence, charismatic personality, unique blend of humor, and genuine warmth make his "The Show America Must See". Allen's show is a favorite among young and old alike, and is consistently rated one of Branson's top shows by the many motorcoach groups that travel to this music mecca.

Trip # 70-10

“The Voice of Branson”

Experience what thousands of people enjoy year after year, and you'll understand why Allen is “The Voice of Branson”.

Allen Edwards' soothing vocal style is reminiscent of many musical legends and Allen's music touches the hearts of all. In the fast paced world that we live in, Allen's peaceful voice is truly a breath of fresh air. It is that voice, combined with Allen's dynamic stage presence and genuine warmth and charisma that make him such a fan favorite. But, what sets Allen apart is his sincere love for God, family, and country, as he strives to give all a beacon of hope.

Allen Edwards always had two dreams. He dreamed of one day becoming a police officer, and he dreamed of becoming an entertainer. Little did he know that one day both dreams would become reality.

Allen was born and raised in Northwest Indiana, where music was always a part of his life. His earliest memories include working alongside his father in the garage on Saturdays singing along with the country legends on the radio. His first solo performance came at the tender age of six when he performed “Silent Night” in church.
